WHEREAS, the world is presently gripped with an unseen virus that has now infected millions of people worldwide, bringing economies of nations plummeting upside down, and worst claiming lives of people who continue to grapple in finding the cure;

WHEREAS, women all over the world including famous leaders of many States while under distress, are hopeful and persistent, working doubly hard to attend to their obligations to their respective communities as well as their families;

WHEREAS, the Municipality of San Nicolas is not spared from these difficult times, but resilient as we were known from time immemorial, people continue to band together to find solutions to pressing problems that confront almost every community;

WHEREAS, leaders, health workers, frontliners in the battle against COVID-19 are mostly women, who brave the hazards they meet all day, just to ease the spread of the virus and ensure the protection of the residents in the municipality;

WHEREAS, these efforts are heroic and it is just appropriate and fitting, to accord these courageous and dedicated women the honor and commendation for their relentless exertions in helping protect, and rebuild their communities;

WHEREAS, the celebration of the International Women’s Day is a fitting moment to recognize the role of women in pushing and helping realize and attain the goals and objectives of the Local Government Units they serve;
